Principal's Update T1, W4

Positive Behaviours

As a college, we support students to understand and adhere to our expectations through explicit teaching. As a place of learning, we want all students to be engaged and contributing to a safe and respectful learning environment where students can flourish. In Parent Information sessions this year you may have heard mention of PBIS (Positive Behaviour Interventions and Supports), so I thought I would explain it a little in this week's newsletter.

Our Purpose Statement

Through a consistent whole school approach, we will teach, model and support our students, in learning desirable behaviours and attitudes to enhance their academic, social and emotional learning.

What is PBIS?

PBIS is a proactive approach and focuses on teaching all students agreed expected behaviours and pro-social skills rather than just reacting to behaviour errors. A small number of students require highly individualised and intensive interventions (sometimes aligned with Personalised Plans for Learning).

Why teach expected behaviours?

- We cannot assume students understand expected behaviours
- Research shows that punishment, when used inconsistently and without positive strategies, is ineffective
- Consequences do little other than to signal an error has occurred; they do not re-educate and teach what is expected
- Teaching expected behaviours has a positive link to wellbeing and academic outcomes
- Repetition of explicit teaching is key to learning.

What does PBIS look like at St Mark's College?

A matrix of Behaviour Expectations and agreed Classroom Expectations is displayed in every classroom. This Matrix was developed last year in consultation with staff, students and the community.

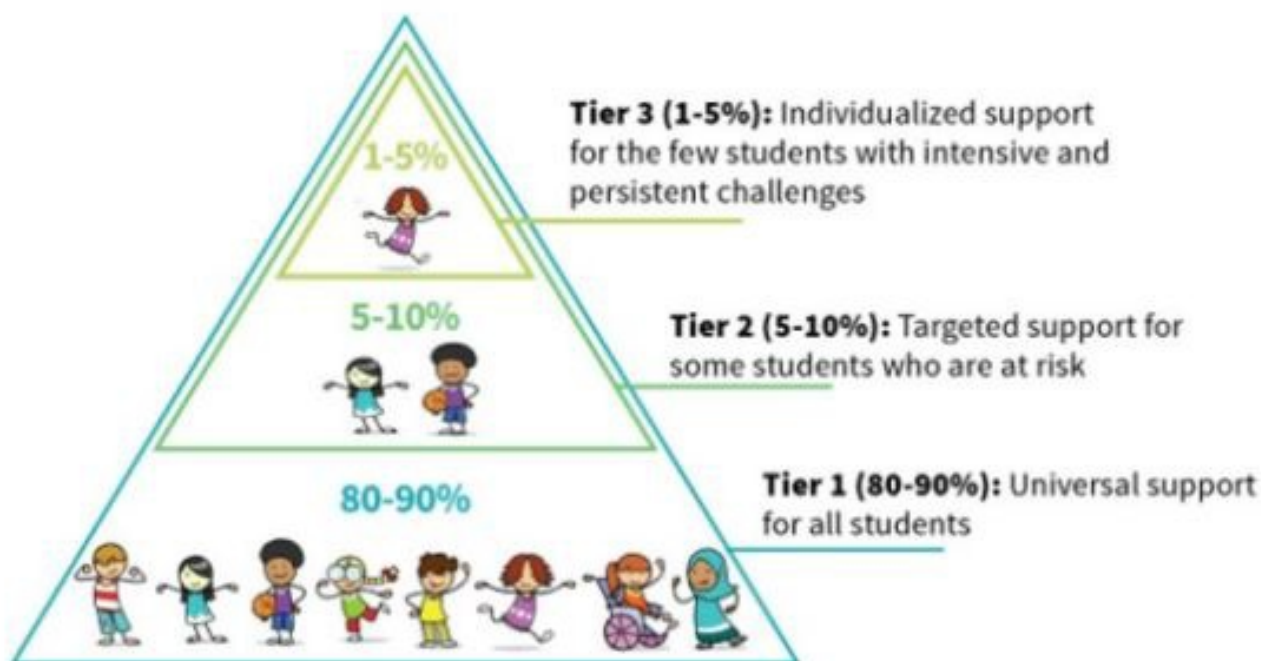

- Procedures for non-classroom settings are displayed in their relevant areas.
- Students can state the behavioural expectations.
- Positive behaviours are explicitly taught, modelled and practised with students and reinforced throughout the year.
- All staff acknowledge and positively reinforce expected student behaviours.
- It is a team-based approach.
- Families are informed and actively included in supporting expectations.

For most students, modelling and reinforcing the expectations is sufficient. All students hear and practise the expectations in Tier 1 – universal support. Of course, we recognise that students sometimes make poor choices and mistakes. We work with students who need additional support through Tier 2 interventions such as re-teaching outside of class time. For a few students, persistent challenges will result in Tier 3 interventions, which include an explicit Behaviour Support Plan. Significant behaviours that breach expectations may result in suspension from school. As parents we can sometimes be quick to deny, defend or excuse our children's behaviour, but this does not help our young people to accept responsibility for their actions or to develop the social and emotional skills needed to thrive in the community. We greatly appreciate parent support in reinforcing expectations and working with us to equip our young people with some vital life skills.

In a world where we can be anything, above all be kind.

Sacramental Information

Sacramental Information Meeting: Monday 3 March, St Mark's Cathedral, 7:00pm

If your child is interested in undertaking one of the following sacraments this year, please attend the Information Meeting:

- Year 3- First Reconciliation (November),
- Year 4- First Holy Communion (August)
- Year 6- Confirmation (Ascension Sunday, June)

If there are any students wishing to become members of the Catholic Church (through baptism), please get in touch with our local parish office in (08) 8632 3977 or email saintmarkscatholic@pp.catholic.org.au. (A student must be baptised before undertaking additional sacraments.)

Year 11 Sacred Spaces Excursion

This Wednesday, the Year 11 classes visited local sacred spaces around Port Pirie as part of their Religion study for the course, 'Spiritualities, Religion and Meaning – SRM' as part of their SACE subjects. Students and staff visited the Greek Orthodox Church, the Port Pirie Masjid (Mosque) and the Catholic Cathedral.

I wish to acknowledge the excellent attitude, respect and attention that all of the Year 11s who attended showed to our presenters and the model behaviour displayed in our local Port Pirie community. Students engaged keenly with presenters at each sacred space and listened to how their community held meaning for their faith, beliefs, and sense of belonging within the features in their space.

Year 11s and staff are appreciative of our local religious communities giving their time and space to provide our students with an enriching experience and connection with faith. Students will use their experiences as part of their first summative assessment task.

Benedict and Bosco Liturgies and Masses

Liturgies and Masses are underway each week at both Benedict and Bosco Campuses. We thank the parish clergy of Fr Jimmy and Deacon Gary for their presence and celebration of these liturgies. Benedict liturgies continue to attract parents to our beautiful Chapel to join their children in during these times. Deacon Gary frequently encourages students with parents attending to go up to them and show their appreciation for coming. The connection between parents and the parish is bridged by these encounters and is a real sign of the community engaging in their faith as a family.

The theme of Hope permeates many of the school Masses currently and allows the Jubilee Year to be embraced in a faith setting for the community, not just in the classroom.

College Logos for the Jubilee Year

As part of our Golden Jubilee Celebrations and the coinciding Jubilee Year of the Church, our Art and Design Teacher and Ecological Action Leader, Mrs Megan Congdon, has designed some logos that fit within the format of our house crests. These logos represent significant themes for our 2025 year.

The red logo is born of 'Seeds of Hope', our Diocesan Theme this year and matches the farming aspect of the McNally House. The land donated by the McNally family is rich and fertile ground in which to grow a seed, not just agriculturally, but spiritually and socially as well in developing the vibrant faith community of St Mark's College.

The blue logo is born of our Salesian Strenna, 'Anchored in hope', and similarly is the symbol for Christian Hope, symbolic of the Jubilee Year theme, 'Pilgrims of Hope'. This also connects with the missionary experience of the Salesians remembering their first missionary expedition 150 years ago. There is also the call to mission recognised by the Good Samaritan Sisters to places around the world, starting with Port Pirie, through Archbishop Polding in the 1890s.

The green logo represents the mountains, rivers and paths, a symbol of journey's path and the pilgrimage that we make in this Jubilee Year. This is also associated with the Gallagher House by connection to the Diocese of Port Pirie of which their patron was our longest-serving bishop.

The yellow logo is emblazoned with the number '50' a Jubilee number in Ancient Hebrew times and symbolic of the Golden Jubilee year that the College celebrates this year since the amalgamation of all Catholic Schools in Port Pirie in 1975. Our school motto, 'Enlighten and inspire', speaks to the light that glows in each of us and is something to be cherished and celebrated.

Communication

Effective communication is the foundation of a successful educational experience. One of the most crucial steps in fostering this communication is through the class teacher.

The class teacher is often the first point of contact between the school and the family. They play a pivotal role in observing and understanding your child's academic and social progress.

The class teacher sees your child every day, providing a consistent presence in their educational journey. This daily interaction allows the teacher to notice subtle changes in behaviour, learning patterns, and social interactions.

With a deep understanding of each student's strengths and areas for improvement, the class teacher can tailor their approach to meet individual needs. This personalised attention helps in addressing specific challenges and nurturing talents.

Beyond academics, the class teacher offers emotional support, creating a safe and nurturing environment. This support is crucial for your child's overall well-being and confidence.

The class teacher acts as a bridge between the school and home. Regular updates, parent-teacher meetings, and open lines of communication ensure that parents are well-informed about their child's progress and any areas that need attention.

A strong relationship between the class teacher and your child fosters trust. This trust encourages students to express themselves freely, ask questions, and seek help when needed. We have a strong focus on building solid relationships between teachers, peers, and community throughout the year.

To maximise the benefits of this relationship, here are some tips for parents:

- Stay Engaged: Attend parent-teacher meetings and school events. Show interest in your child's school activities and achievements.
- Open Communication: Maintain an open line of communication with the class teacher. Share any concerns or observations you have about your child's development.
- Support at Home: Reinforce the teacher's efforts by supporting learning at home. Create a conducive environment for homework and study.

- Encourage Your Child: Encourage your child to communicate with their teacher. Teach them the importance of asking questions and seeking help when needed.

By recognising the importance of the class teacher and actively participating in your child's education, you can help build a strong foundation for their academic and personal growth. Remember, effective communication is a team effort, and the class teacher is a vital member of that team.

While we understand that parents have the best interest of their child in mind, please avoid direct contact with other families regarding school issues where possible. Should you need to discuss something, your classroom teacher is the first point of contact.

Tips on showing your child kindness

Tips from our School Counsellors, Naomi and Sonya

Showing your child kindness is about offering them patience, understanding and compassion in your everyday moments. When you listen to them with empathy, validate their feelings and model positive behaviours, you are teaching them the importance of kindness not only to others but also to themselves.
